

World Kindness Day

In honor of World Kindness Day, NVC spread a little kindness to The Salvation Army. Brent Hanson is pictured presenting a $500 check to Sue Grewe to support their food assistance program.

If you want to donate or volunteer with The Salvation Army, visit <https://www.salvationarmyusa.org/sd/abern/6th-avenue-sw-corps/>. Every little bit counts!

Thank you to The Salvation Army for everything they do to help families in our community!

AAHS Sponsored Pet

As of printing deadline, our November Aberdeen Area Humane Society sponsored pet Tuesday is still available for adoption.

Tuesday is a 12-year-old sweetheart who loves people but prefers to be your one and only cat. She's not a fan of shelter chaos and can't wait for a quiet home where she can relax and feel loved.

We donate $250 to the AAHS if our sponsored pet is adopted during that month. Thank you to all who shared our post on Facebook! The AAHS is full of amazing animals waiting to find homes. Visit anewleashonlife.net to find your new best friend!

Simplify Your Holiday

If you're stressing about the upcoming holidays, put technology to good use to relieve some stress. See the below tips from Komando.com.

Create a digital cookbook

If your recipes are printed or handwritten, snap a picture with your phone or tablet. Add them all to one folder for easy swiping. If you're using recipes you found online, you can go to justtherecipe.com to strip the ads, save the PDF versions, and toss them all in one spot. There's a free 14-day trial, so just remember to cancel if you're not going to keep using it.

Digital holiday cards

Canva, Adobe Express, Paperless Post and Mailchimp all offer solid options. Choose a template, whip up a greeting and send it in just a few minutes — no trip to the post office.

Turn your TV into a digital fireplace

Don't have a crackling fire? Search for "Yule log" on YouTube or your preferred streaming service. Boom — instant cozy vibes. Bonus points if you turn on your smart speaker to play holiday tunes in the background.

Remove the screen temptation

The holidays aren't the time to be scrolling constantly on your phone. If you need help disconnecting on your Android, go to Settings, then Digital Wellbeing. From there you can set app timers, a screen time goal, and set parental controls.

Winter Weather Apps

The first official day of winter is right around the corner, and it didn't wait until December 21 to remind us what winter weather is like!

Not many enjoy winter weather that alters our weekend or travel plans, but being prepared can help so much. Having a weather app like The Weather Channel, Weather Underground, AccuWeather, or Weather.gov on your phone can help you plan ahead.

As for road conditions SDDOT 511 is a very detailed app with forecasts, current conditions, closures, and pictures. Many states have their own apps, and although getting used to how one indicates what is on the ground can be confusing, downloading a specific state before getting on the road may save you a lot of stress.
